Dr. Laurence Stone To Attend the World's Largest Continuing Education Program for Cosmetic Dentistry

May 1, 2007– Doylestown, PA - Laurence Stone, D.D.S., M.A.G.D, with a Doylestown-based practice in Cosmetic and General Dentistry, will attend the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry's 23rd Annual Scientific Session, Excellence in Cosmetic Dentistry 2007, May 15 – 19 in Atlanta, GA. The AACD is the worlds' largest international based organization dedicated to advancing excellence in cosmetic dentistry, of which Dr. Stone is an active member.

This year's Annual AACD Scientific Session features the world's most comprehensive continuing education opportunity for cosmetic dental professionals. Courses geared for cosmetic dentists, dental laboratory technicians, hygienists, and dental team members are available to provide an integrated dental learning experience. Lectures, one-on-one hands-on workshops, panel discussions and vendor displays provide attendees with continual learning venues on the latest findings, products and practices in clinical cosmetic dentistry.

"Public awareness of the benefits of cosmetic dentistry has increased tremendously in recent years. Thanks to clinical advancements in our field, enhancing a person's smile through cosmetic dentistry is more achievable than ever before. Attending this session helps my practice continue to deliver the highest quality patient care," said Stone.

Dr. Stone's attendance at this conference reaffirms his dedication to providing quality care with a commitment to continuing education and personal growth.
