DR. STONE AND STAFF ATTEND WORLD'S LARGEST EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM FOR COSMETIC DENTISTRY

(Doylestown, PA) –Laurence Stone, D.D.S., M.A.G.D, with a Doylestown-based practice in Cosmetic and General Dentistry, attended the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry's® (AACD) 21ST Annual Scientific Session in Nashville, TN from April 19 –23, 2005. The AACD is the world's largest organization dedicated specifically to cosmetic dentistry, of which Dr. Stone is a member. In addition to Dr. Stone, several of his staff attended the educational sessions at the conference.

“Public awareness of the benefits of cosmetic dentistry has increased tremendously in recent years. Thanks to clinical advancements, enhancing a person's smile through cosmetic dentistry is more affordable, and certainly more accessible than ever before. I find it critical that not just me, but my staff as well, attend these professional educational conferences so that I can offer my patients the best treatment available, ” said Dr. Stone.

The AACD Conference showcased leading practitioners and educators from throughout the world in over 70 different educational sessions, including a live cosmetic makeover. Pictured here is Dr. Stone with Treatment Coordinator, Kristen Wagner, posing with Dr. William Dorfman, Los Angeles based dentist of Extreme Makeover fame.

The AACD is the largest international dental organization dedicated specifically to the art and science of cosmetic dentistry. Founded in 1984, the AACD has over 6800 members in the United States and more than 50 countries around the globe. Dr. Stone has been a Sustaining Member since 1996, and this is the 7th educational AACD conference he has attended.
